"Clean-Up Week"

April 23rd to 28th

This next week has been declared "Clean Up Week!"

Spring is now with us and all citizens are asked to see that all the winter's accumulation of trash and litter is cleared away.

The provincial sanitary inspector paid his annual visit last week and he insists that all manure be removed from the alleys.

A little effort on the part of the householders in raking up their front yards in conjunction with cleaning their back premises, will go a long way towards improving the appearance of the town.

Didsbury has always enjoyed the reputation of being a clean town—it is the duty of local patriots to keep it so!

Let every patriotic citizen start his "clean-up-paint-up campaign"—It is good for him, good for the town—and good for business!

Signs of Spring.

The curling rocks were all moved from the curling rink on Tuesday to their various summer homes.

Jack McCloy has been seen studying a catalogue of fishing supplies.

Organize Board of Trade

A supper was held in the Knox United Church basement on Friday evening, when a number of townsmen and farmers met to further the organization of the Calf Club and to organize a Board of Trade.

After a splendid supper served by Knox United Church Ladies Aid, Mr. N. S. Clarke took the chair.

Mr. Delbert Lovagood, who was one of the team to win the Alberta championship for dairy cattle judging and represented the province in the judging contest at the Toronto Royal Fair, gave a very lucid description of their trip to Toronto.

Prof. W. J. Elliott, Principal of the Vermilion High School, who directed the Calf Club last year, complimented the boys and girls on the splendid effort they made last year. He suggested that instead of branching out with another calf club this year, it would be better to increase the membership of the dairy club already organized and improve the quality of stock they were handling. He pointed out the great benefit that could be done by procuring high production dairy cattle in the district.

He advocated the formation of a board of trade to get behind these boys and girls and pointed out methods where such an organization could be of benefit to this and other movements.

Mr. Parkinson, of the Olds School of Agriculture, who will have charge of club work in the district, spoke and asked for the full support of the members.

Mr. A. A. Dunkley spoke on the organization of the board of trade and outlined the procedure. He cited the benefits that accrue to the town and district when a board of trade was active. Mr. Dunkley had been active in the work of the board of trade at Olds for several years and kindly offered any assistance he could give.

After the banquet a meeting of the townsmen and farmers considered the organization of a board of trade.

Several present expressed their opinion in favor of forming a board of trade, and on the motion of Mr. J. A. McGehee, seconded by Mr. H. W. Chambers, it was decided to organize under the name of Didsbury and District Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce.

It was also decided to apply to the Department of Commerce for a charter for the organization.

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. J. E. Gooder; Vice-president, Mr. W. McFarquhar; Council: Messrs. H. Hallday, N. S. Clarke, Geo. Burns, Harvey Hooegood, W. J. McCoy, E. Liesmer, Dr. Clarke, J. A. McGehee, W. G. Liesmer, Roger Barrett.

At a meeting of the Council held the same evening Mr. W. G. Liesmer was appointed secretary.

Another meeting of the council will be held in the near future to complete organization.

Mr. McEwan, of Calgary, and formerly of the Royal Bank here, was the guest of Mr. C. E. Reiber at the house of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Reiber over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Weber, who spent the past two weeks at the coast, introducing Rosebush Pastry Flour, returned to Didsbury on Saturday. Mr. Webersays that his products were well received and he expects to work up considerable business with the coast towns. He also thinks that there is a good opening for trade in mixed dairy feeds at the coast.

Fortieth Anniversary of Settlement at Didsbury.

Forty years ago yesterday the first train of settlers arrived in Didsbury. And to celebrate the occasion the ten old-timers who still remain in the district met and had a photograph taken at the Stratton Studio.

Those who were in the party were: Mr. S. Troyer, Mrs. Ephraim Shantz, Mr. Allen Hunsperger, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Hunsperger, Mr. Manasseh Weber, Mrs. Fred Budgeen, Mr. Ed. Weber, Mr. Ivan S. Weber, Mrs. Alvin Hunsperger.

In 1894 Mr. Jacob Y. Shantz who was connected with the Dominion Immigration came to Alberta and visited all parts of Alberta. He decided that the Didsbury district was the most favorable he had seen in his extensive travels. He dug a well and erected the immigration sheds which are now on the Dedds Dairy Farm.

On his return east his glowing account of the district so interested his neighbors that they decided to try their fortunes in the west.

In the spring of 1894 a party of immigrants were organized to the number of 39 and they left Berlin (now Kitchener) with several cars of effects to which was attached a tourist car for the accommodation of the passengers.

At Calgary they were met by Mr. Wm. Hunsperger and his sons Allen and Abner from Brown City, Michigan, who had travelled by passenger train and the party arrived at the Didsbury siding on April 18th 1894.

The party leaving Berlin were: Mr. Jacob Y. Shantz, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Shantz and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Detweiler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weber and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fisher and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shantz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Witmer and family, Mr. Val Fisher, Mr. Otto Frank, Mr. Billy Brandon.

Mr. S. Troyer, Woodbridge, Ont. The men of the party had all fled on homesteads previous to coming here and while they were erecting homes they resided at the immigration sheds which had been built for the convenience of settlers.

Many of the older members of the party have passed away and some have moved to other parts, only ten of the original pioneers remaining here today but the pioneer deeds and accomplishments, the fine lives lived and splendid examples set, are a constant reminder and urge to the younger generation who are striving ably to further the work of their ancestors and make Didsbury one of the outstanding towns and mixed farming districts in the west.

I.O.D.E. Provides British Films

The I.O.D.E. is providing two special British films, "One Family" and "Royal Remembrances," to be shown at the Opera House on Thursday, April 26th in conjunction with the regular feature picture.

The pictures are of special interest and are sponsored by the Dominion I.O.D.E.

Matinee at 3.15 p.m. and evening show at 8.30.

BORN: At Didsbury, Alberta, on Monday, April 16th, 1934, to Mr. and Mrs. Hank Wall, a daughter.

Mountain View M.D. Reduces Mill Rate

The mill rate for municipal purchases was reduced from 7 mills to 6 mills at the meeting of Mountain View municipality held at Olds on Saturday afternoon last.

The estimates for the ensuing year were considered and it was decided that with the balance on hand and economy during the year that the municipal tax rate could be reduced one mill.

Another consideration in the reduction is the fact that the elevator graders would be used more extensively this year and thereby effect a considerable saving in the construction of roads as against team labor.

The principal items of expenditure which appeared in the estimates were:

Public Works	$ 4,000 00
Roadwork, allocated to Divisions	15,000 00
Administration	5,000 00
Aid, relief, health and sanitation	6,500 00
Protection of property	600 00

It was also decided to approve of a discount of 10% on current taxes paid prior to June 1, and 7% on current taxes paid before September 1—if the proposed legislation now before the Provincial House comes into effect.

Two applications for mothers' allowances were approved.

Adjutant Waterston, of the Salvation Army, appeared before the council, asking for aid in carrying on the work in the Old People's Homes. It was decided to give the usual grant of $200.

The purchase of a carload of lumber for culverts and bridges was authorized.

Wheat Control Legislation

With the introduction of legislation in the House of Commons at Ottawa, and simultaneously in the legislatures of the three prairie provinces, whereby power is to be taken by the several governments to control the marketing of wheat, a complete reversal in the policy which has hitherto been one of the outstanding features of Canada's development will become effective. Time alone will reveal whether the policy now being adopted is wise or not, but unquestionably the several governments concerned are convinced that it is a necessary step to take at this particular period in our national and economic history.

From the earliest days of the opening of Western Canada to settlement, and following the construction of our first transcontinental railway, it has been the aim of all governments at Ottawa not only to encourage settlement, but through the provision of better services to promote the production of the greatest possible volume of wheat. In the development of those policies the Federal government has been assisted and its efforts supplemented by the Provincial governments in the West. Production was encouraged in all possible ways and by every practicable means. A never ceasing battle against weeds, insect pests, rust, losses from hail, has been waged; new varieties of early ripening grain have been developed in order to increase the area capable of wheat production; the use of good seed has been stressed; the credit of the Dominion and the provinces has been utilized to make Western Canada a great wheat producing country.

Under the legislation now before parliament and the legislatures, governments are to take control of wheat sales and marketing in order to restrict the volume of such sales, and to apportion among the farmers the amount each will be permitted to sell in the coming crop year, while the Federal authorities will control the volume of sales and deliveries outside the provinces.

"Control of Marketing of Wheat Acts" of a uniform character submitted to the legislatures of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta provide for control by license or otherwise of the quantity of wheat which each owner or occupant of land may sell during the crop year 1934-35. This legislation also provides that any wheat sold in the provinces shall be sold and delivered in accordance with the regulations made by the Provincial Boards; allows an interprovincial board to take possession and sell wheat stored anywhere in the province; provides power to enter into contracts of agreements of any kind with respect to the purchase, sale, handling, transportation, storage and insurance of wheat and to determine what constitutes delivery or possession.

In a word, the provinces take absolute control over the marketing, purchase and sale, and the handling and transportation of all wheat within their respective provinces, while the Dominion takes control of the sale and deliveries of wheat outside the provinces whether within Canada or to other countries.

This, in substance, is the manner in which it is proposed to implement Canada's undertaking in the International Wheat Agreement negotiated at London last year, rather than to attempt to enforce a definite per centage reduction in the acreage sown to wheat and which might, or might not, depending upon climatic and other conditions, result in a lowered wheat production.

Unquestionably the administration of this new legislation will be difficult. It will call for great tact and discrimination if almost universal criticism of and opposition to it is not to develop. Consideration must be given to those thousands of wheat farmers in the drought stricken areas of the West who have not enjoyed normal crops for several years and many of whom have had no crops at all. If crop conditions are favorable this season they must be allowed full opportunity to rehabilitate themselves. The needs of a farmer with a large family of young children are necessarily greater than those of a farmer having no family, or whose children are now of adult age and can care for themselves. In fact, a hundred and one varying circumstances will arise demanding consideration. Hence the task of issuing individual licenses fixing the quantity of wheat which each farmer may sell will be a task in itself.

The new legislation is to be effective for one year only, although, of course, it may come up for review prior to its expiration. In view of present world conditions this restrictive legislation may be necessary; governments at all event appear to be convinced that it is necessary. Therefore, despite the many conflicting views which prevail, it would appear to be best that people generally should not only agree to give it a fair trial, but that they should do what lies in their power to make the proposed system operate as efficiently and with as little friction as possible. Let us see what it can accomplish for our farmer producers in the crop year 1934-35.

Canada's New Flour Markets
 Four new markets were gained by Canadian flour in 1933. France, Portugal, Salvador and Alaska. In 1933 Canadian flour was shipped to 75 external markets in all compared with 75 markets in 1932. The British Empire took 4,218,850 barrels of Canadian wheat flour in 1933 compared with 1,241,565 barrels taken by non-empire countries.

Map Built Of Concrete
 Possibly the largest relief map in the world exists in Nova Scotia. On the boundary of the two provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick a relief map of Nova Scotia was erected, three years ago, and measures 100 feet long and 60 feet high. This relief map is built of concrete in a generous color and is illuminated at night by flood lights.

Alberta Telephones
Zoning Plan To Deal With Rural Lines Is Proposed
 Adoption of a zoning plan in dealing with the rural telephone lines so that sections would be kept in operation for social service or other purposes, was recommended to the Alberta legislature by Premier Brownlee when speaking on the Duggan resolution demanding an inquiry by a house committee into the problems of this public utility, said to have an accrued loss of $100,000,000.

The premier also announced that the government has already taken steps to select a competent engineer to make a survey of the department with a view to supplying a house committee with required information.

EXCESS FAT DUE TO RHEUMATISM

One Remedy For The Two Troubles

Having rheumatism so badly that she could scarcely walk, this woman began to put on a load of superfluous flesh. In a letter just received, she writes:—

"I had a severe attack of rheumatism in both knees. It was so bad that for three weeks I could not put my feet to the ground. I was also getting terribly fat—though not getting my usual exercise. I started taking Kruschen, and persevered. The first thing I noticed was the tone effect it had; the next that my rheumatism went, and—better than anything—I lost the wretched fat. I am a woman of 50 and when I tell you I do exactly the same work as women half my age without the least difficulty, I think you will understand why I swear by Kruschen Salts and recommend them wherever I go."—M. E.

The six salts of Kruschen assist the internal organs to throw off each day the wastage and poisons that encumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The rheumatism and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

Little Journeys In Science

CARBON DIOXIDE
 (By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Carbon dioxide is the gas produced whenever carbon or any of the common fuels, all of which contain carbon, burn in oxygen or air. It is also formed in certain processes such as fermentation and the decay of organic matter. Large quantities also escape from volcanoes and crevices in the earth. It is present in the open air to the extent of about three parts in 10,000. This relatively small amount is essential to the life of all plants and hence it indirectly serves to supply us with our food. One of the essentials of the life process in animals is the slow combination of the oxygen, taken in by the lungs, with the food which has been consumed. This reaction liberates the heat which keeps the body warm. The products of this body combination—carbon dioxide and water vapor—are exhaled with each breath.

At first thought it would seem that the constant production of this great amount of carbon dioxide must fill the atmosphere with the gas. The fact is, however, that when pure air in the country is analyzed, it is never found to contain more than traces of carbon dioxide in 10,000. This is because most plants reverse the process which takes place in animals; they take carbon dioxide from the air and give off oxygen.

Carbon dioxide is without color or odor and is about 1.5 times as heavy as air. At ordinary temperatures one volume of water dissolves about one volume of gas but under pressure it may be made to dissolve in property used in preparing effervescent soft drinks.

It is well known that carbon dioxide escapes through openings in the earth's crust. In a cave near Naples, enough carbon dioxide issues from the cracks in its floor to form a layer from two to three feet deep along the bottom. If a man and a small dog walk through the cave, while the dog quickly becomes unconscious, and soon dies if not rescued, the man, whose head is well above the layer of poisonous gas, feels no bad effects. This cave, because of its fatal effect on dogs, is called the "cave of dogs," which means the "cave of the dog's death."

New Motto For Legion

Legacy From Former Corps Commander

Turning it a legacy to the organization from the former corps commander, Sir Arthur Currie, the Dominion executive committee of the Canadian Legion, at its opening session at Ottawa, adopted as its motto: seven words from the last message of Sir Arthur, one which he prepared for the Remembrance Day observance in Toronto last November. The Legion's new motto, which will appear on all official stationery, and will also be used on memorial occasions, is: "They served till death; why not we?"

The council also adopted a new empire trade slogan for the Legion, adopting the phrase which is now in use by the Australian Returned Soldiers' League. "Wherever you trade, buy empire made." A special design, embodying this slogan, with the Union Jack and the Canadian Legion crest, will be created, to be used as a means of promoting empire trade.

Pecan Nut Loaf

2 tablespoons Crown Brand Corn Syrup
 1 cup milk
 1 pound dates
 2 cups white sugar
 1 teaspoon Marzipan
 2 cups pecan meats
 Powdered sugar

Cook the syrup, sugar, Marzipan and milk to the soft ball stage or 240 degrees on the thermometer. It is best to use a deep skillet or saucepan, as the mixture boils high.

Add the stoned dates and stir until they are well mashed. Spoon in the nuts, a slightly more or less than the given quantity, remove from fire and beat until stiff. Place in wet napkin and roll into shape. When cold, slice and roll in powdered sugar.

Immense Mineral Wealth Is Revealed By Development Work In The North-West Territories

Owing to the evidences that there will be greatly increased activity in the Great Bear Lake mining field in 1934, Hon. Thomas G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, has directed that the Submining Recorder's office at Cameron Bay be raised to the status of a Mining Recorder's office and that all the records relating to the Great Bear Lake field be transferred from Fort Smith to Cameron Bay as soon as possible. The general increase in mining and prospecting activity will be greatly accelerated this year because of the expiration of the moratorium on representation work, and the change at Cameron Bay is to facilitate all lines of activity by having the records immediately available to miners and prospectors in the centre of the field, instead of necessitating a trip to Fort Smith.

That the mining properties in the Northwest Territories are developing is the favorite of the reports received by Hon. Mr. Murphy from officers in the field during the year 1933 with the trend of operations in the past season chiefly in the development of present holdings toward a production basis. Great Bear Lake is still by far the most important mining field in the Northwest Territories and development during 1933 while not spectacular was of great significance as it practically proved that several promising properties have every indication of becoming important producers in 1934 and 1935.

The principal companies have carried out extensive trenching and diamond drilling with very satisfactory results and in a number of cases shipments of ore and concentrates have been made to reduction plants in British Columbia and Ontario. Following in the wake of this development activity, other improvements have been noted such as cheaper and better transportation facilities both by air and water, improved radio communication, introduction of surveys, location of a doctor, establishment of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment in the centre of activity at Cameron Bay, and the erection of three sawmills and the opening of several stores. The main line will be of great and three in the near future and development of this very promising district.

The various government departments have been active in assisting industry in the development of the Great Bear Lake mining area. The department of the interior is charged with the administration of the Northwest Territories and consequently has played a leading role in this work. Mines and technical education has been established at Great Bear Lake and in course of preparation in the Topographical and Air Survey Bureau of the department, based on several surveys carried out in co-operation with the Royal Canadian Air Force. These maps will be of great and three in the near future and development of this very promising district.

Last year the Department of the Interior also had a townsite laid out at Cameron Bay and to date over 100 lots have been applied for and numerous buildings erected. A survey was also made by the department's mining inspector of the timber resources adjoining Great Bear Lake with a view to their orderly utilization.

Other departments are active in the area. The Department of Public Works is improving conditions for water transportation at several points; the Department of Justice has established a Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment at Cameron Bay; and an up-to-date wireless station has been installed at the same point by the Department of National Defence.

The search for gold was actively pursued by prospectors in many parts of the Northwest Territories during the past year and unconfined reports indicate that important deposits of placer gold were made in the South Nahanni country. Last fall two prospectors returning from the South Nahanni area which lies in the southwestern part of the Territories and close to the territorial boundary between the Yukon and the Northwest Territories, reported that they had washed some rich gravel on McLeod creek and obtained a fair quantity of coarse gold. Although officials of the Department of the Interior were unable to confirm this report by personal inspection, the news spread rapidly and a small rush resulted. By the end of December there were approximately 100 placer claims staked.

The original discoveries were on McLeod creek and two other small feeder creeks, the Diamond and the Canyon. It is also reported that claims have been staked on creeks running into flat and pebble rivers which together with the McLeod are tributaries of the South Nahanni river. Several prospecting parties have been formed in the area and a number of others proceeded by dog-team from Simpson on the Mackenzie river.

In August last another reef lease was granted on the southwest shore of McVern Arm, Great Bear Lake, where the main reef consists of a seam of black lignite over eight feet in thickness. The Northwest Company, subsidiary of Imperial Oil Limited, operated its wells on the Mackenzie river 53 miles below Hornum and produced over 4,500 barrels of petroleum and gasoline, of which about 90 per cent. was shipped to Great Bear Lake.

Development work, which was carried on by the twenty most active companies in the district, continues to show the immense mineral wealth of this field. Several of the earliest claims staked have reached the production stage and notwithstanding the great attention which development work received during the past year over fifty tons of pitblende and native silver were shipped out to reduction plants at Trail, British Columbia, and Port Hope, Ontario. One company has already been shipping for treatment, since 1931, high grade radium and silver ore and in December, 1933, transported by plane the first high grade radium concentrate obtained from its 40-ton mill. Shipments of concentrates from radium and silver ore will be increased as soon as water transport becomes available this year. Although it is hardly four years since the first discoveries of radium-bearing ore at Great Bear Lake, Canada has already become an important producer of this valuable element and as production increases the Great Bear Lake area will be the source of ore from which the whole of Canada and the British Empire can be supplied with radium.

While the discovery and development of the deposits of radium-bearing ore at Great Bear Lake has occupied public attention, silver is the predominating precious metal found in this field. Numerous veins containing high grade silver have been located on several large properties and development of these holdings has proved that several of them will be producers and shippers during 1934.

Hundreds of men were employed on the various claims undergoing excavation and development and the mining equipment is being raised to a very high standard. One mill has been handling over 50 tons of ore daily since early in December while a ten-ton pilot mill which was erected last year is being replaced this year by a twenty-ton mill. Plans have been prepared for a fifty-ton mill to be erected on another property this summer.

Work already accomplished on the different properties and plans under way indicate that 1934 will be one of the most important years in the development of the Great Bear Lake mining area. In other parts of the Northwest Territories exploration and prospecting work will continue to be carried on in the hope of further adding to the known mineral wealth of the Dominion.

IT'S SPRINGTIME FOR YOU! NEAR FASHIONABLES AS WELL AS FOR MUMMY

Pattern includes dress—Rabbit. Today's little dress is carried out in an old-fashioned color printed dainty.

The plaits of the skirt are arranged to form a box-pleat effect and sway so prettily in motion.

Style No. 615 also includes pattern for the pet rabbit. Designed for sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years.

Size 8 requires 1½ yards of 30-inch material with ½ yard of binding; rabbit requires ½ yard of 30-inch material.

Stuffed or plaided cotton is another very smart choice. Laces and chamois points are much favored and quite suitable for this dainty made dress.

Price of pattern 20 cents in stamps or coin (cash is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Plans For Ambitious Air Project To Be Launched In 1935 For A Rapid Trans-Canada Service

Area Of British Columbia

New Figures Published By Lands Minister Believed Accurate

Exact area of British Columbia is 368,256 square miles. This figure is published by Hon. A. Wells Gray, minister of lands, on the strength of a detailed computation made by the surveys branch.

The 1937 Year Book, last official statement having the authority of the government, gave an area of 361,600. The figure most commonly used by department officials in recent statements has been 372,630. The threefold British Columbia area only 368,256 square miles.

But the new figure is about as accurate as it is ever likely to be, despite the fact that there is an area of 7,000 square miles in the north of the province, bounded by mountains and hundreds of lakes, that has not one mile of survey line and has not a single survey monument in it.

Of the 368,256 square miles now known to constitute the area of the province, the report shows 6,970 square miles to be covered by water in rivers and lakes.

Attention is drawn to the fact that, despite the presence of several large lakes, British Columbia's total population amounts to less than two to the square mile. For every man, woman and child in British Columbia there is half a square mile of land.

No Job For Women

Only Men Should Pilot Commercial Planes, Says Women Aviator

Antonie Strassman, one of the first German women flyers, who arrived in New York recently, admits ruefully that women must confine their exploits to the field of amateur aviation.

"The day of experimental flying is past," she said, "it is time for women to admit that commercial aviation is a man's job. Passengers have more confidence in male pilots. Women are not found at the controls of locomotives and they should not seek to pilot the great commercial planes."

Miss Strassman has taken out her first naturalization papers and hopes to live in New York. She will continue to fly, but only for her own amusement.

The longest aqueduct in the world is the Puyallup. It is 1,175 miles long and serves 550 Italian towns.

South Africa may reduce its tax on excess profits of gold mines.

From Halifax to Vancouver in 19 hours, from Toronto to Halifax in six hours, and from Toronto to Vancouver in a trifle more than 14 hours—not a stunt, but as a day-to-day performance—is the ambitious project scheduled to be launched in 1935 by Canadian Airways in collaboration with other Canadian companies and the Dominion government.

The companies will be ready with a fleet of airplanes capable of sustained cruising speed of 200 miles per hour as well as the government believes economic conditions adequately recovered to warrant extension of air mail contracts.

By next year, under unemployment relief work carried out by single men in government camps, four new flying fields will dot Canada from coast to coast all as part of carefully planned preparations designed to give Canada as modern a commercial airway service as is enjoyed by any country.

When the service is launched Halifax will be little more than four hours from Montreal, and 11½ hours from Winnipeg.

Airplanes will shoot from Toronto via North Bay, to Winnipeg in a trifle more than six hours; on to Medicine Hat in another three and half hours; cut south through the Crow's Nest Pass and on to Vancouver in less than five hours more.

Subsidiary services will bring Edmonton, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Battleford and other points north of the projected main route within a few hours of it, most of them within less than an hour of connections.

England Wants Store Cattle

Market For Two-Tooth Animals At Spring And Autumn Sales

To avoid any misapprehension on the part of Canadian shippers of "store" cattle, says the Canadian trade commissioner, it should be clear that "stores," according to the British farmers' needs, are two-tooth or two-year-old animals, preferably the former. Unfinished three-year-olds are not considered as being store cattle, and buyers of the two-tooth animals at the spring and autumn store cattle sales. The seasons for the best trade in store cattle are late April, May, June, September, October and early November.

Farm Trucks And Autos

Statistics Show A Motor Vehicle For Every Two Farms

The introduction of the tractor some twenty odd years ago marked the beginning of the period of most rapid expansion in use of farm motor vehicles on the plains of the West, where such power could be used to advantage. In 1921 there were 47,465 tractors on farms and 105,200 in 1931. Along with this increase in use of tractors came increased dependence upon trucks and automobiles. In 1921 there were 157,022 such vehicles on the 714,000 farms, or about one to every four farms. In 1931, with trucks recorded separately at 18,402, and automobiles numbering 231,556, there were a total of 249,958 farm motor vehicles. Actually 268,260 farm motor vehicles and 40,298 reported tractors.

Official Stamp For Beef

The two first grades of beef have been designated by the Dominion government as "Red" which is "Choice" and "Black" which is "Good." These animals are stamped on every cut in red or black ink according to grade. The ink is the product of the Division of Chemistry, Dominion Department of Agriculture, and is perfectly harmless.

DEIFIED A KING FOR LOVE

All the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't make young Prince Sievard of Sweden change his mind about wanting to marry Frank's Ericka Patzek, German film actress, with whom he is shown in London. The Prince flatly refused the plea of King Gustav of Sweden, his uncle, that he reconsider the matter.

Try Some Alfalfa.

Everywhere alfalfa is grown it is recognized as an extremely valuable hay and pasture crop. Indeed it has been called the king of hay plants.
It has been grown on the Dominion Experimental Farms and Stations of the prairie provinces for many years and has shown its adaptability to most of the districts served by these stations. Much publicity has been given the crop, yet the area in alfalfa today is small in comparison with such a crop as sweet clover.
It is grown quite extensively in the irrigated areas of Alberta, and this has possibly caused the farmers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan to consider the crop to be suited only to irrigated areas. Alfalfa has been grown very successfully for almost forty years at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Brandon, where hay yields have averaged 2½ to 3½ tons per acre from two cuttings.

Probably the most common reason advanced for the restricted area devoted to alfalfa are (1) cost of seed and (2) unsuitability to the general grain raising practices in the West. Results of experiments and practice at Brandon do not wholly support these views.

It is true that the better cost of alfalfa seed is considerably greater than that of sweet clover, but because of the fact that once sown, alfalfa remains down for five or more years, the actual cost of seed and labor is less.

Alfalfa and sweet clover occupy distinctly different roles in western farming. Sweet clover being short-lived its admirability into the general grain rotations. Alfalfa is a longlived perennial crop, not suited to short rotations, but especially adapted for permanent hay and pasture fields. The value of a good, permanent hay field is well recognized.
Such a field is seldom included in the general rotation, but acts as a supplement to the hay in the rotation.
All too frequently poor stands of hay are obtained and it is in such cases that a permanent field of alfalfa shows its need, worthy for it does much to reduce those frequent hay shortages.

A large acreage of alfalfa on every farm is not recommended, as it takes its own western practices, but an acre sufficient to meet individual requirements is certainly advisable.
Try some alfalfa.

"Instead of Fifty-Two."

By L. J. W. Didsbury.

Said Farmer Jack to Neighbor Joe,
in terms so melancholy, "My blood is cold. I'm growing old—I'm fifty-two by golly! My smile is nil, my back is grim, my disposition's on the bum, a song I have no heart to hum—I'm everything but jolly.
My pop has long deserted me; all gone is my aggression, I'm ever sad, I'm never glad—Oh, woe is my confession! I'm fifty miles in arms and legs, and shake my head and with the night, if times get worse soon I shall beg—except of this depression. I tell you, Joe, I'm mighty blue. I wish so much, oh, how I do, that I could be a boy
again, instead of fifty-two!"

"Your system's wrong," friend Joe replied, "Your view on life is phoney.
For such abuse there's no excuse—that guff is all baloney. Must anyone go moaning round, immersed in deepest gloom profound, with nose just barely off the ground, and glare of eye so stony? Reverse your program for a spell and try a bit of sinning; that mournful pan-right now I'd can for one that's always grinning. Start off each morning with a laugh. Don't be afraid to joke or chaff; and cups of happiness you'll quaff each day from its beginning!"
"Forget your worries and your cares, your interest and your taxes.
Don't turn the stone all day alone for other people's axes. Hang up your work and learn to play: soon you'll be singing every day—like when the heart is young and gay, or when the mind relaxes. That old chin-whisker—scrape it off—it's too unsanitary! 'Tisn't your face in any case, I'll bet, the world, by Jerry! Those heavy locks and fifty-old that now have got you on the prod, won't ever put you
'neath the sod while you stay blithe and merry. Now listen, Jack, I'm telling you—take my advice and use it too—And you'll be like a boy
again, instead of fifty-two!"

Here and There

Princess Junho, sister of the Emperor of Manchukuo, with her husband T. K. Cheng, were passengers aboard the Duchess of Richmond recently. They travelled across Canada via Canadian Pacific Railway and sailed from Vancouver to the Orient on the liner Empress of Canada.

Heaviest Easter traffic in years with main line trains running in both directions and with additional coaches and parlor cars on branch line trains, Canadian Pacific Railway, was reported over the recent holiday, right across the Dominion. Special low fares attracted many passengers.

In the annual statement of the C. P. R. for last year, published recently, it was brought out that as a result of decreased earnings
the great majority of railway companies have taken a cut of fifty-per cent. in wages; higher efforts have been required 200¢ and the Company's directors have had a 20¢ cut in their fees, while T. W. Beatty, chairman, and Frederick, lost at his own request taken a reduction of forty per cent.

Mail cars only after they had withstood the Grand National race at Windsor, near Liverpool, a number of Torontonians reached their homes in time for the Easter celebrations. The achievement was made possible by a fast voyage of the Duchess of Richmond under her new commander, Captain Arthur Rothwell.

Announcement is made by the Canadian Pacific Railway that it will have direct shipments of freight via Port McNicoll and its lake and rail route subject to delay at Port McNicoll, pending the first sailing. Three Canadian Pacific steamers will be in service on the Great Lakes during the coming season.

"Bride ship of the Atlantic" as she was called by reason of the large number of prospective brides being carried from Great Britain and the continent to Canada,
the Metamora of the Canadian Pacific Steamships is to be sold for scrap, her owners announced recently.

Fifty years of railroad service, 25 of them with the Canadian Pacific Railway, were honored recently at the Royal York Hotel by a banquet and presentation to Robert E. Larnson, retired general freight agent at Toronto. E.
W. Beatty, K.C., L.L.D., chairman and president of the company;
Grant Bell, vice-president, and George Stephen, traffic vice-president, were among those who attended.

L. G. Prevost, K.C., assistant collector, Canadian Pacific Railway, has been promoted to the post of collector of the company for the province of Quebec, succeeding the late Rodolphe Para-die, K.C., the appointment being effective as from April 1.

Captain David Sinclair Mc-Queen, commander of the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Athol, will retire on May 1, after 11 years spent on sea service, most of which was in the employ of the old Allan Line and Canadian Pacific Steamships.

Would Abolish Lieut.-Governorship

Abolition of the office of lieutenant-governor at the expiration of Hon.
W. L. Walsh's term, which ends in May, 1936, was demanded in a resolution adopted by the provincial legislature Friday night.

By a vote of 29 to 20, with party lines broken, the House carried the resolution, which was moved by Donald Cameron, I. F. A., Stony Plain.

The resolution requests the provincial government to look into the feasibility of utilizing Government House as a tubercular sanatorium for Northern Alberta.

WEEKLY JOKE

"Folks," said the colored minister, "The subject of my sermon dis-even 'em. 'Lars'! How many in the congregation has done read the 60th chapter of Mathew?"

Nearly every hand was raised.
"Date right," said his reverence,
"you is just de folks I want to preach to, dere is no 60th chapter of Mathew."

Alberta Election in 1934 Unlikely

Statement was made Saturday in the legislature which was taken as a verification of reports that there would be no provincial election
this year.

Amendments to the Election Act were under discussion. George Mac-Lachlan, U. F. A., Ponikvar, chairman of the legislature redistribution committee, and generally considered to be close to the government, observed that he "did not think"
there would be another election until another session of the legislature had been held. This was taken by observers to be an indication of the government's intentions.

Amendments to the Act, which were ultimately held over, were submitted by Fred J. White, Calgary
Labor leader, and W. E. Payne, K. C., Conservative, Red Deer.

Make Punishment

Fit the Crime

Two Red Deer youths who played the prank of breaking off forty-five fence posts guarding a boulevard, were depressed Thursday last over the boomerang their stunt staged.

When they were tracked down by the police the youths grinningly expected nothing more than a good old dressing down and a lecture from their parents. Even the threat of juvenile court didn't impress them,
as it only meant another lecture.

However, authorities viewed the matter in a practical light, and considered the best way to punish the lads was to make them rebuild the fence, with the police chief acting as foreman in charge. The lads are cured—they will break no more fences!

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

British Columbia will consider a minimum wage for domestic help. Hon. George S. Paterson, minister of labor, has announced.

Closing of government houses in the western provinces as a temporary economy move was suggested in the Alberta legislature by D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader.

The Canadian government has not officially recognized the new state of Manchukuo, the prime minister stated in the house of commons in answer to a question by J. A. Braden.

David Kirkwood, labor member of parliament in Britain, has received 30 or 40 applications from imperial ex-servicemen now living in Canada since he was successful recently in getting a claim by one of them acted by the ministry of pensions.

The heaviest earth shocks ever recorded at Salt Lake City, Utah, rocked cities in north Utah and southern Idaho recently, caused large buildings to sway, cracked the walls of some structures and also closed communities in southwestern Wyoming, Nevada and California.

Manx Puzzles Translators

Language has No Words To Describe Modern Inventions

Numerous puzzles confront even the most expert linguistic experts who have to translate modern English words into the Manx language.

But this has to be done frequently, as all laws enacted in the Isle of Man have to have both English and Manx texts.

The Manx House of Keys, the lower branch of the Isle of Man legislature, will shortly be asked to bring up to date a bill providing the Douglas highway board to close the roads for the annual automobile race, one of the most dangerous in the British Isles.

The bill must be prepared in both the old Manx tongue and in English. Its translation can only be undertaken by an expert Manx scholar.

There is no such Manx equivalent for the word "motor," since such a vehicle did not exist when the language was a living one on the island. The word "race" is translated into Manx Gaelic as "coodrey," meaning a "contest" or "striving together." So the June automobile race will be described on the Manx statute book as "Coedrey Motor."

This is only one example of the many difficulties that face the translators of modern terms into the ancient Manx language. The task is becoming harder each year with the admission into the English language of American expressions and the growing idiosyncrasy of Manx.

On some occasions even the expert linguists find it impossible to get the exact Manx equivalent for many English words. When the recent conversion of war bond stock took place the translation described it for legal purposes in Manx as "the changeover of the loan for war." In Manx this is "breaght chaght chaght" (change knowledge changeover).

Because law in Manx is based on ancient customs, a law on motor cars is a puzzle to the translators.

Incredible Aged Turk Would Win And Wed Again

Zeki Achin, reportedly aged Turk, asked the government to double his salary as policeman so he could court the proper woman as attractive as modern woman.

Things in his country are not what they used to be, he says. It is difficult to find a woman who is as attractive as modern woman.

Colonization Finance Corporation

Practical Problems of Agriculture Reviewed At Annual Conference

Farm managers of the Colonization Finance Corporation and Western managers and inspectors of member companies were present in Winnipeg recently for their annual conference on practical problems of agriculture at the present time. The supervising staff of the Canadian Colonization Association was also in attendance.

At the meetings, a paper was read by Dr. Howard Dewart, of St. Louis, Mo., on the question of rural appraising, and various problems of farm management were discussed, among them the following: structure conservation and soil drilling in areas subject to drought; problems of control and cropping methods to meet the grasshopper situation; methods for controlling corn grass; general problems in the control of soil erosion; and the necessity for better use of waste land, rotation of crops, and the use of crop plants, ways of improving water supply, a consideration of the general situation regarding machinery and horse power, as trends of cutting operating costs and a review of new information regarding the handling of stored crops.

S. K. Todd, secretary of the industrial and development council of the Canadian Meat Packers' Association, outlined the marketing procedure necessary to take advantage of the opportunities at present afforded in the British market for the bacon type of hog acceptable there.

The beginning of an organized farm management program such as the Colonization Finance Corporation has been carrying out for the past four years. It is a program of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association, now in Montreal, March 28, 1927. Two years ago, the settlement was on the part of the Canadian Colonization Association, a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and clearly demonstrated that more extensive supervision of new settlers was needed. This was a greater task than the organization of individual lending companies could bear, and it was apparent that this could best be done by joint effort.

During the first year, the Colonization Finance Corporation, a subsidiary of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association, was organized in a very limited manner, having only 20-22 members. It was organized under the supervision of the chief farm manager, assisted by two zone managers. Zones were established that year with headquarters at Winnipeg, Brandon and Dauphin. In 1921, the staff of the Colonization Finance Corporation consisted of three zone managers, supervising 450 farms comprising 368,135 acres situated in the provinces of Manitoba, Western, Indian Head, Canada and Yorkton, Saskatchewan. Being opened in 1922, the staff of the Colonization Finance Corporation, under its management, 1,441 farms, 148,225 acres, with a farm manager, two zone managers, 45 zone managers and two assistant zone managers in charge.

Of the 45 zone managers, 75 per cent are reported in the country, either as mortgagees or purchasers under sales agreements, and only 25 per cent by banks. The membership of the Colonization Finance Corporation is a growing one.

Canada Gets New Fruit

Cross Between Orange And Grapefruit Has Intriguing Flavor

"Should the name of ugly fruit be changed to a more beautiful name?" That is the question bothering certain importers in Montreal at the moment. Meantime, a shipment of 2,500 fine specimens of ugly fruit was landed at Halifax aboard the Canadian National ships Lady Somerset and Cathcart and rushed to the Montreal market. It is a cross between an orange and a grapefruit, importers explain. They predict a great future for it on the Canadian market, because of its especially intriguing flavor.

McGill University Benefactor

Montreal Man Leaves Large Sum To Eastern Institution

McGill University will benefit considerably, probably to the extent of more than $100,000, under the will of the late Dr. Jean Boivin Levesque, a native of Montreal, who practiced ophthalmic surgery in Harley street.

The estate has been probated at $215,000. The McGill medical faculty will get $50,000 to be expended on a library and museum. Another $50,000 goes to the London Ophthalmic Hospital and $25,000 to the British National Blind Library.

Ultimate residue is to be divided between McGill and St. Thomas hospital, London.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, getting to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a statuette of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impromptu dancing. When the rest of the members of the party go to a ball to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep in the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Downman and Weeks, an advertising agency, where Camilla has submitted some of her work, send for her and tell her they have a new account which requires unusual treatment of juvenile art. To Camilla's surprise she learns that the account is that of her foster father's company, which has decided on an extensive campaign to bolster up bigging business. After a conference with

Mr. Downman, Camilla decides to attempt the work. The office work is enthusiastic about her work and Mr. Weeks offers her a salary of $5000 a week to get her a position of making it difficult. This goes to keep a dinner, a gift, and a position. She tells Peter of her good fortune in securing employment. Mrs. Hoyt is also informed that Camilla has obtained work and is going to leave the Hoyt household. Avis is very glad to make up the same room as Peter, and invites him to have lunch there.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XXXV

After all, what was the harm in accepting Avis' friendly hospitality? She had intended it so that Peter would come aboard to refuse. This is one she was for times, and he had been about to run to the corner lunch counter for something to eat, anyway.

"On one condition," he warned her, severely.

"Oh, I know what you are going to say, old emotions. Just I don't want to encourage you to linger after the last biscuit is vanished. All right, but you know it really isn't polite for a guest to eat and run away. Only a genuine hostess would understand the urgency of the situation."

"And you will be generous of course."

"You know it. Because I am anxious as you are for nothing to interfere with your exhibit entry."

"You can't be one-half as anxious," he scoffed, not taking her seriously in the least.

"You can't, can't you?" she said gently.

"Well, that's just why I am looking out for your welfare, so that you will lose as little of your previous time as possible, and be well fed at the same time. Ready? Don't bother to take off your sculpting jacket. I'll see you enough just as you are—even with the smudge of clay on your left ear."

She took his hand like a delighted child who has persuaded the boy next door to play house with her on her side of the hedge. It was the first time Peter had seen her room, so he had to inspect and comment before he sampled Tilly's culinary leanings. His beauty-loving eyes wandered from floors to walls and alone with admiration. They delighted in the rich blend of Chinese tones, midday tapestries, oil paintings, and a variety of hangings, polished brass and fragrant flowers in profusion.

"Say, this makes my place look like a barn!" he exclaimed.

"Do you like it?" anxiously.

"Rather!" he fingered a wall tapestry with an appreciative touch.

"Wherever you get this—it's a beauty!"

"In Paris. Yes, it's a genuine Gobelins."

"Aren't you afraid to keep it here?"

She shrugged and sank into a deep, dreamy languor.

"Oh, these things never bother me. I think it is silly to have beautiful things stored away in vaults and safes. I wear my jewels and live with my treasures and enjoy them while I can. Now wouldn't it be stupid to decorate this place with rare institutions or live with rare walls around me, while I sit here and boast to you I have a marvellous Gobelins stored in the vault, and a Saturnus vase, and some priceless pieces of carved ivory that I discovered in Peking?" she indicated the objects on Peter's inspection.

"I quite agree with you about that," he declared with enthusiasm. "If I ever should possess anything valuable, I should want to have it around where I can enjoy it all the time."

"Take your wife," Avis wondered, she said. "I promised not to keep you long from your work" and led him across the room to a table arranged for two in the window alcove.

"It won't be easy enough to forget work in a place like this. I'd like to browse around and ask questions all day. It's perfect," he continued to admire.

"There will be lots of time for you to browse around when your piece is finished and you are waiting for the verdict of the judges. That will be better for you than walking the floor in suspense." She glanced around the room. "But don't you notice what is missing?"

He looked about, dubiously. "If there is a minus quantity it can't be more than x, y, or z."

"And you a sculptor!" he chided.

"That's right," his glance surveyed the room again. "You don't support the profession, evidently."

"That is just what I want to do. But I purposely omitted the sculpture because I want you to do me something very special when you have time."

"Does that constitute an order?" incredulously.

"Several, perhaps." She smiled and tapped a bronze table gong. Tilly appeared promptly with a steaming tray.

To Peter, whose nourishment for weeks had consisted of hasty sandwiches, coffee and heavy pastries, the food came down as a revelation. The seed cake, creamed sweetbreads and feather-weight biscuits with gauzy gills were nectar and ambrosia. He ate hungrily and chattered amiably. Avis marked a score on her mental chart.

She would not be so anxious as to ruin a good start by indigestion. The way to make a man love her was to allow him very much was to let it become a pleasant and voluntary habit with him. In other words, to make Peter believe he wanted her companionship and the comfort of her solicitous concern for his welfare, more than anything else, was to allow him to develop a casual habit of accepting them. She would force them upon him gradually while she made him believe he sought them without being aggressive—easily, naturally.

It was she, even, who suggested firstly, when he had done ample justice to the food and was smoking leisurely in a deep armchair. "Isn't it about time you went back to your work, old ambitious?"

"Did the whistle blow?" he asked with amused surprise. "I didn't hear it. But you are just right about my getting back to work. You almost made me forget that times waits for no man and opportunity flies."

"Your quotations are all jumbled," Avis laughed.

"The food has gone to my head," he apologized. "But, seriously, that's the first decent meal I've had for a week. I hope I didn't eat the glutton."

Avis was clever. She did not repeat the same straighten too often. Sometimes it was just a steaming cup of coffee, handed in to him at the right moment without personal interruption, or an iced drink in the evening when he had stopped work for the day, followed by a friendly goodnight.

For contrast, there were several days at a time when her door was closed and her rooms devoid of human sounds, while she filled social engagements or remained anxiously at home. But she was never absent from the studio long enough to allow Peter's growing sense of loneliness to merge into forgetfulness. She doubled with her painting, entertained or just amused herself, striving for patience and a friendly indifference toward Peter at the same time that she displayed an intense interest in his work and progress.

So subtle was the effect upon Peter that he soon forgot his aversion to an importunate neighbor, dropped his antagonism toward the Avis Werth of the past, whom he concluded he had judged too severely, and became so accustomed to her friendly concern for him that he relaxed into his pleasant comfort as he sank wearily and gratefully into one of her cushioned chairs and sipped a refreshing drink at the end of an arduous day.

C.G.I.T. Group and School Orchestra Concert, April 24

The C.G.I.T. Group and Didsbury School Orchestra are giving an entertainment in the Knox United Church on Tuesday, April 24th at 8 o'clock p.m.

This is the first time this orchestra of young musicians, under the direction of C. R. Ford, has made a public appearance, and as a result of their hard work they have made wonderful progress. Their selections will be enjoyed by all.

The girls are presenting a short, humorous play entitled "Sewing for the Heathen." The play depicts a women's sewing circle, with many difficult situations arising, the solutions of which are most amusing.

The Group is giving a closing camp scene also.

Come and enjoy an evening of music, fun and inspiration. Admission: Adults 25c, children 15c.

Westerdale M.D. Council Meeting

A meeting of the Westerdale municipal council was held at the municipal offices on Saturday, with Reeve George Clarke in the chair and all the councillors present.

A delegation from the Beaver Dam Municipality met the council to discuss the building of roads in the Cremona district, which would serve both municipalities. It was recommended to build the river road into Cremona, and the Beaver Dam municipality will use the elevator-grader owned by Westerdale to construct this road.

It was arranged that the councillors make a tour of the district to view the roads and make an estimate of the work necessary to be done during the season. It was also decided to purchase three new main-tainers.

The question of seed grain was discussed, but it was decided that the needs of the district did not warrant the passing of a seed-grain by-law.

Miss Annie Currie, who was practicing teaching at the Rosebud school, returned to her studies at the Calgary Normal on Monday.

Mr. George McKenzie-Grive, of the Royal Bank, who spent his vacation at his home at Vancouver, returned on Monday.

Mr. Noble Cole is confined to his bed with an attack of pleurisy and lumbago. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Ed Ford was taken to Calgary last week, where the cast on her knee was removed. We are pleased to hear she is progressing favorably.

Mr. A. Melville Anderson, D.O., representing Anderson & McLean, Optometrists & Opticians, Calgary, will be at the Rosebud Hotel on Tuesday, May 1—Eyes Examined and Glasses Fitted. (16c)

Mr. Williams, provincial sanitarian inspector, paid his periodical visit to the town last week. He checked up on a few cases, and insisted that all pigs be moved out of town by the 1st of May. He remarked that the town was in a very good sanitary condition on the whole.

A character portrait of Mr. N. A. Gwynon, Calgary, more familiarly known to Didsbury and district as "Bingo Daddy," was accepted and hung by the Leicester & Leicestershire Photographic Society in affiliation with the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain 1934 International Exhibition. This was the only Canadian entry to win honors in the 1st Class section. The portrait was taken by Harry Brewer, Calgary.
